

The diagram illustrates the semi-conservative model of DNA replication. A parental DNA molecule (blue) is unwound, and each strand acts as a template for a new strand (red). The resulting two daughter DNA molecules each consist of one original template strand and one newly synthesized strand.